

ALDO TESI

President and CEO
ELECTION SYSTEMS & SOFTWARE, INC.

■ “The people at Koley Jessen are energized and engaged. There’s an attitude there of wanting to be the best for their clients. They do their homework, get to the issue at hand, and are good chess players who can anticipate the next move.”

President and CEO Aldo Tesi knows state and local governments around the world look to Election Systems & Software for innovative election products. He relies on Koley Jessen to understand how to apply the law to their specialized industry. Over the past 20 years, Koley Jessen has handled major acquisitions for the company and provided comprehensive representation in virtually every other area of practice we offer.

After nearly 40 years in business, Election Systems & Software is the go-to provider for fully integrated voting hardware and software and business services solutions. ES&S products can be found in four countries and 39 states with more than 4,000 election offices. Our ability to maneuver through the right channels, hone in on the issues at hand and tackle challenging situations has provided Aldo Tesi with the confidence, trust and results he expects from a legal partner.
