

Adams Land & Cattle Company

Jerry and Bill Adams understand the importance of consistently exceeding customers' expectations of quality and value. For more than 15 years, the Adams brothers have turned to Koley Jessen for business and legal guidance. The result is the strategic transformation of Adams Land & Cattle Co. into one of the premier feeding operations in the world.

Adams Land & Cattle Co. has distinguished itself as an innovative leader in agribusiness and is on the forefront of introducing technological advances to the beef industry. Our breadth and depth of legal expertise and strategic business transactions, negotiations and succession planning have helped the company expand from a local operation to a regional one, while staying true to the mainstay of their business – producing quality beef. Like Jerry and Bill Adams, we know providing value to our customers will lead to lasting and successful relationships.